

Faville Grove Sanctuary's BIRD SPECIES LIST

Updated April 2020

Protecting, supporting, and enjoying birds are what make our organization sing! Madison Audubon's Faville Grove Sanctuary was established in 1998 with the goal of conserving and reestablishing native habitats for the benefit of birds, mammals, plants, insects, and people. The wide range of habitats that you find at Faville Grove are a result of fascinating and diverse geology, burn history, and microclimates. This 171-species bird list was pulled from eBird on April 22, 2020.

You're invited to explore the sanctuary. How many species will you find?
